

BURK & CO.'S GREAT MID-SUMMER STOCK-RELIEF UNLOADING SALE

The one grand semi-annual bargain event, to which all Richmond and surrounding trade sections look forward with the keenest interest, begins to-day, and with it an era of Under-Value Selling that will create a sensation. We have on hand a large surplus in Men's and Boys' apparel, and stringent methods must be adopted to reduce this surplus to the proper level. A temporary sacrifice, rather than an ultimate loss, is the platform on which we launch this sale. To the teachings of this sound logic are due the Reckless Reductions in which you will not be disappointed.

AMERICANS FIRST IN TWO MORE EVENTS AT OLYMPIC GAMES

Kelly Wins Final Heat of 110 Metres Hurdle Race and Guttererson Captures Running Broad Jump, Making New Record. A Small Tempest Stirred Up When Young of Boston Is Disqualified for Fouling German Runner.

United States Still in Lead

The total scores, as announced, are as follows:

United States, 100; Sweden, 71; Great Britain, 53; Germany, 26; Finland, 23; France, 19; South Africa, 11; Denmark, 11; Norway, 10; Italy, 9; Canada, 8; Hungary, 8; Australia, 5; Russia, Greece, Belgium and Austria, 3 each; Holland, 2.

Stockholm, July 12.—The American athletes won two more events at the Olympic games to-day. Frederick W. Kelly, University of South California, took the final heat of the 110 metres hurdle race, while Waddell and Widdings, also representing the United States, ran second and third, respectively. In this event, Albert L. Guttererson, of the University of Vermont, captured the running broad jump, with a new Olympic record of 24 feet 11 inches.

a time stirred up a small tempest. It was almost a repetition of the clash at the London Olympic, when the American, Carpenter, was disqualified for fouling an Englishman in a similar sprint, and the unpleasantness caused in Anglo-American athletics was a long time in the forgetting. On this occasion it was a collision between Germany and the United States. An Amherst divinity student, Donald B. Young, running under the colors of the Boston A. A., finished two yards in the lead in this race, but was disqualified and the heat given to his fast Teutonic rival, Braun, who crossed the line second. The circumstances led the spectators to think that the United States might protest, but the American committee, while considering the judges' decision in error, accepts it loyally.

The alleged foul occurred on the first turn, fifty yards from the start. The race was for blood, and there was great rivalry between the two Americans, Young and Ira N. Davenport, University of Chicago, and the German, Braun. Young took the lead on the first jump. The German attempted to pass him on the outside, and at the turn was elbowed by Young. The judges made an attempt to stop Young at the next turn, but without success. The incident caused great excitement, the Germans booed the Americans, and Manager Ralph Hahn argued with the judges. The Amherst boy takes the matter much to heart.

"Braun was pushing me back," said Young, in explanation. "The only thing I could do was what I did or he pushed into the Swede. If they disqualified me they certainly should disqualify Braun. I would not kick so much if they disqualified both of us."

The victory of the Finn, Tainio, in the discus event surprised the Americans, for they had depended upon winning this, but had to be content with second and third. The prowess of the Finns, particularly the phenomenal runner, Kohlenmaier, was hardly anticipated.

In the running broad jump Guttererson was only a hair's breadth behind the world's record, but second place went to Canada and third to Sweden. As the 110 metres hurdle race was a clean sweep, the day did not pass without three American flags going up together.

Lieutenant Patton's success in scoring fifth in the modern Pentathlon against forty-one other officers, the best of the European armies, makes the American cavalry lieutenant one of the popular personages of Stockholm. The Swedish officers who had beat Patton had the advantage of long training on the ground, and the American had to ride a strange horse.

Great Britain and Australia swept the 400 metres swimming. Healy, of Australia, doing the world's record. Great Britain and Australia also monopolized the prizes for the women's

LITTLE CAPITAL CITY LEAGUE

Standing of Clubs.

Club	W.	L.	P.C.
Little Battle, A.C.	1	1	566
Little Southern Bell	1	1	566
Little Ashland	1	1	523

These teams play every morning in the city. The field has been opened to the school boys as a playground. The boys will challenge any boys in the city from the ages of twelve to fifteen years.

Canada Reinstated.

At a meeting of the Capital City League, held in the office of President Eaton last night, Player Canada, of the Grays, was reinstated by a vote of four out of the five managers who were allowed to vote. The Grays, according to the constitution, were not entitled to a vote on this question. The spirit in which the managers of the various teams fought for the reinstatement shows that the league is composed of true sports. The Battle Axe and Collierys, who are first and second in the race for honors, were the leaders in the fight for reinstatement, showing that these fellows want good and clean sport, and are willing to go against the best teams that can be secured before claiming the championship honors of the city.

Gold Watch Stolen.

F. B. Carter, of 621 1-2 South Laurel Street, reported to the police yesterday that his home was entered and a gold watch, valued at $20, stolen.

CHOKED BY BURGLAR

The police of the First District are now searching for the negro who is said to have entered the home of Mrs. H. S. Snelson, 925 North Twenty-ninth Street, early yesterday morning and choked her. It is believed to have entered the dwelling for the purpose of robbery. His presence aroused the

MAY PUT BURNS BOOKS IN WASHINGTON HALL

Plan to Merge Memorials Proposed. Carnegie Sorrows at Smith's Death.

Washington, July 12.—A suggestion that the proposed Scottish memorial—in reality a memorial to Robert Burns—be incorporated in the George Washington Memorial Convention Hall project was made to-day by a number of Washington's prominent business men. William Robertson Smith, late superintendent of the National Botanic Garden, in his will, recently made public, has left his celebrated Burns library in the hands of a group of trustees, headed by Andrew Carnegie, as a nucleus for the Burns memorial. Back of the George Washington Memorial Convention Hall are the George Washington Memorial Association, headed by Mrs. Henry F. Dimock, of New York, and the business men of this city.

Already it is pointed out, more than half a million dollars has been raised toward the construction of the memorial convention hall, and the Senate has passed the first bill authorizing the use of a whole square south of Pennsylvania Avenue as a site for the building.

The Burns collection of the late Mr. Smith could very well be placed in a special room in the memorial hall, it is said. The great convention hall will be visited by hundreds of thousands ## of Washingtonians and visitors to this city each year, and Mr. Smith's idea that the collection should be of educational value to the people will, in this case, be made nationwide.

The crying need of a great convention hall, capable of housing the largest national gatherings, is being emphasized on all sides. It is believed that to incorporate the Burns memorial in the same project would be of material advantage to the convention hall project.

Smith's Death Grievous Carnegie.

To William F. Gude, a warm friend of the late Mr. Smith, there came to-day a cablegram from Andrew Carnegie in relation to the death of Mr. Smith. It was sent from Skibo Castle, Scotland, and read as follows: "Many hearts here plunged into grief at the sad news of our friend's departure. He was beloved by all."

Mr. Smith and Mr. Gude were the guests of Mr. Carnegie at Skibo Castle several times, making their visits to the steel king simultaneously.

Mr. Gude said that he believed the plan to combine the two memorial projects, with benefit to both, might be worked out.

Two Boys Wanted.

The police yesterday were asked to search for Ralph Blackwell, twelve years old, and Charles Ashbrooke, twelve years old, who escaped from the Children's Home Society.
